CHINESE BANDIT RAID ON TRAIN AROUSES U. S. Fight Occurs Over Dipping Vat In Escambia County

OFFICERS BATTLE QUARTETTE OF MEN

One Killed And 2 Are Hurt In The Firing
Early Sunday

CAMPAIGN WILL BE CONTINUED

Alleged Effort Made
To Dynamite Vat
Near Brewton

(Associated Press.)
BREWTON, Ala., May 7.—The cattle dipping campaign in Escambia county will be carried on with increasing vigor, authorities announced today as they continued inquiry into a battle between sheriff's deputies and an alleged gang early yesterday in which one man was killed, two seriously injured and one man captured.

The casualties were all on the side of the anti-dippers. Leonard Fuqua was shot dead. Jacob Brake and Cary Bush fell before the officers' fire. John Brake last after captured.

The four men, according to deputies Brown and Baron, who were guarding a vat, approached with dynamite and guns and began firing when the presence of the officers was made known. The brakes were quoted by authorities as saying they were hired by two well known citizens of the community to dynamite the vat.

Unidentified Girl Dead In Vacant Lot

(Associated Press.)
DETROIT, Mich., May 7.—The body of a pretty 17-year-old girl lies unidentified in a morgue here today and the two young men who said they found her unconscious in a vacant lot last night are held.

The young men told police officers they knew nothing about the young woman, but according to their story saw her lying in a vacant lot at Burnett and Garden avenues. They went to a nearby house and reported that a woman had fainted. Another young man went with them to where the girl was lying and carried her to a nearby house. She died 10 minutes later.

Examination showed her clothing torn to shreds and fingernail marks on her neck indicated the possibility of a struggle. After a preliminary examination the prison physician stated indications pointed to strangulation as the cause of death. An autopsy will be held today.

Albany Divides A Two Game Series

Albany divided a double bill with Sheffield in Sheffield Saturday afternoon. The locals had expected to take on the Florence Normal team Friday afternoon in another twin bill but wet grounds forced cancellation of the games.

In the first encounter Pepper stayed the Sheffield attack, while his team mates piled up nine hits, good for seven runs. A home run by Burns in the early innings with one man on, gave Albany a big lead. The final score was 7 to 4.

In the second game Handy pitched and lost a three hit affair, 2-0. Arthur saved the day for Sheffield when he raced back to the left field fence to gather in Prosser's drive with two out and two men on.

Evangelist Coale Concludes Series Of Services At The Methodist Church

Taking as his text the familiar scripture words, "No man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself," Evangelist D. L. Coale preached to a large and appreciative audience Sunday morning at the Central Methodist Church and deeply impressed the fact of personal responsibility. "The greatest thing in the world," exclaimed the preacher is one part of his discourse "is to be good and help others to be good."

At the close of his sermon Dr. Coale told a most impressive experience. He said that while in the pastorate, a handsome but dissipated young man, whose people were members of his church, proposed that Dr. Coale perform the wedding ceremony for him as he was about to marry a beautiful young woman and an active church worker.

Dr. Coale said he told the young man that he hated to marry him to the young woman because of the life he lived as he felt sure that unless he accepted Christ he would break the woman's heart.

The young man was pleaded with to accept the religious life but to no purpose. After a few months of married life the man returned to his vicious way of living and his wife died of a broken heart.

The man bought hundreds of dollars worth of flowers for her funeral and as the coffin was opened he took the dead hand of his wife in his and asked the whole assembly to pray for his soul's salvation, and finally, according to Dr. Coale, God spoke peace to the poor man's soul. The speaker then asked if it were not much better for people to start right and live so as not to help ruin the lives of others.

The speaker told another experience of a rich banker who, when he found his influence was keeping others away from Christ, made a move to be accepted of Christ and was accepted. The preacher said he had been looking for "outstanding" men in the Twin Cities who were keeping others out of Christ and that also he was looking for "outstanding men" who could be a great power for Christ in the Twin Cities. He said that as yet he had been unable to locate such "key" men.

The speaker said that people be-

Negro Woman Is Attacked By Band Of Masked Negroes

Sarah, the wife of P. H. Savage, a negro barber who has a shop on Railroad street, is suffering from injuries said to have been inflicted upon her about 9:30 Saturday night. Savage stated when seen today that according to his wife four masked negroes attacked her as she was returning to her home near the corner of Vine and Washington streets, west of the union depot.

Savage stated that a masked negro woman sought to put a rope around the neck of his wife and then when she was resisted successfully, the three other masked negroes attacked and that one of them, a man, kicked Savage's wife in the side and inflicted a painful but not particularly dangerous wound.

The wounded woman is able to sit up today. Officers are in search of the alleged law breakers.

Savage stated that since the trouble he and his wife had received threatening letters and that he had placed them in the hands of officers.

Savage stated that he and his wife had saved their money and had some property and that he believed jealousy alone was at the bottom of the attack as he knew of no other possible motive.

Accountant Dies In Auto Accident

BIRMINGHAM, May 7.—D. W. Hyer, certified public accountant, employed by Earnest and Earnest of Atlanta, was killed early today in an automobile accident. Hyer's home was in Atlanta but he spent much of his time with headquarters here.

longed to God because He created them and that all owed allegiance to Christ because He had redeemed the world.

In speaking of how he felt as to his own personal responsibility Dr. Coale said with convincing forcefulness that he had rather be guilty of murder than to be the occasion of sending a soul to destruction. He strongly advised greater activity among church members and stated amid laughter that if he were going to order spiritual harness for many of the church people in the Twin Cities that for the present no pulling harness would be needed but that he would "order a car load of holding back straps."

Get Out And Get Busy.

"What you need to do is to get out and get to work," said the speaker forcefully. "I don't want to hear the hymn 'Onward, Christian Soldiers, Marching as to War,' too much," said the speaker as he emphasized the word "as."

"You should make sure enough warfare, not just imitation war."

"We need workers not just protectors against heresy and heresy seekers."

This expression brought some fervent "amens."

The speaker said he had heard of excellent authority the Col. Robert G. Ingersoll declared before his death that he felt sorry for having said so many things against the Christian religion as he felt there could be no end to his influence. "Get every possible influence for good started before you come to die," advised the speaker.

The singing was led by Evangelist Albert Cunningham with spirit and enthusiasm at all the Central Methodist services yesterday, three in number, at 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. T. G. Harris took a free will offering at the services for Dr. Coale and Rev. Cunningham and received a generous response. Dr. Harris reminded the congregations that there was considerable expense to such a revival meeting and mentioned the cost of the advertising among other expenses. He said that except for the advertising he felt sure large crowds would not have been attracted to the church.

Reeves will discuss "Ideal Training;" on Wednesday night "The Ideal in Worship and Soul Winnings;" by Rev. S. D. Monroe, the pastor of the church.

On Friday night Dr. C. C. Davison will speak on "Ideal Business for a Church." Special musical programs will be rendered at each of the announced services.

Market Disrupted By Spurious Checks

(Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 7.—Prices on the New York stock exchange were sent tumbling today by the reaction from heavy buying, started on a flood of orders, which it was disclosed, was backed by worthless checks drawn on several Pennsylvania banks. Although the orders were mailed at widely separated cities in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New York, all the letters were written on the same brand of watermarked paper and the checks accompanying them also had been printed on a uniform brand.

MONTH OF REVIVAL EFFORT NOW ENDED

Great Ingathering Of People At Series
Of Meetings

HUNDREDS GIVE HEART TO GOD

Thousands Heard Word
Preached From The Several Pulpits

With the Sunday night services at the Central Methodist and at the Central Baptist churches, more than a month of special religious efforts in the Twin Cities came to a close.

In April the Presbyterian churches in South Albany and in West Albany held series of meetings as did the Baptists of the Southside.

In addition to these meetings the Methodists of Austinville held special religious meetings during April.

Some three weeks ago a series of meetings were begun in the East Albany Baptist church led by the pastor of the church, Rev. S. D. Monroe. Those meetings came to a close about 10 days ago.

The most largely attended meetings were those at the Willoughby Presbyterian church and at the present meetings of the Central Baptist and the Central Methodist.

Some of the most largely attended meetings held by any of the denominations were at the Louisville & Nashville shops during the noon hours for the past several weeks.

Secretary C. J. Randolph of the R. Y. M. C. A. stated this morning that for the past month the attendance of the shop men at religious meetings at the shop, as based on estimates made by the men who spoke at the meetings amounted to 4,450 men.

He added that had the simultaneous meetings of the Baptists and Methodists just coming to a close had been held at different times, he believed the entire attendance of shop men would have amounted to over 8,000, about the number as attended the George Tucker shop meetings.

Results of the Meetings.

Published accounts from the Willoughby church revival as contained in the church periodical of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. show that 75 professed conversion and 46 were taken into the Willoughby church of which Rev. A. N. Penland is pastor. The Evangelistic speaker at this revival was Rev. Walter M. Crawford of Birmingham.

Rev. S. D. Monroe, pastor of the East Albany Baptist church, stated that as a result of the meetings his church had received 11 by baptism and five on church certificates.

"We claim that close to 300 have professed conversion at our meeting at the Central Methodist Church," stated Dr. G. T. Harris Saturday morning. "We had close to 75 to profess conversion Friday night and had a great service," continued Dr. Harris.

Reports Monday morning from the Central Baptist revival which closed Sunday night state that at the final service four offered themselves for baptism "making a total of fifty, including a few with letters from other Baptist churches."

PRISONER IS TAKEN BY FEDERAL AGENT

W. C. McPhail, special agent in charge of the federal department of justice at Birmingham, left last night for the Magic City taking in his custody a white man who gave his name as S. E. Barnett, who was held in the county jail since late Saturday on a complaint made by Hill Robertson and Isiah Coleman against Barnett charging him with securing $86 from Charles Priot and about $8 from Hance Neville, the last two being negroes living on the Courtland road four miles from the Twin Cities.

It is said that Barnett approached Priest, who gets a federal pension of $60 a month and told him that the government was now requiring all its pensioners to take out $10,000 insurance or else lose their pension rights. Barnett, it is said, told Priest he was a federal officer and was prepared to insure him provided a part of the insurance premium was paid to him at once. Priest came to Decatur, for $50 of his pension money and added $36 to this, paying $86 to Barnett.

This alleged act was said to have happened some time Saturday morning.

Late in the day Saturday Isiah Coleman, a grand son of Priest, became suspicious, it is said and looked Barnett up, found the number of the taxi. Barnett was first seen in, and in company with Hill Robertson, another negro, came to the office of Sheriff Poole. Deputies went with the negroes to a local hotel where Barnett was found. He had only $11.75 in his possession, it is said. Part of the money had been paid in taxi fees, it was stated.

The taxi driver's name was given as J. I. Eastman and he returned toward Tusculumbia, where he is said to live.

Barnett stated that Eastman brought him from Tusculumbia on Friday night. Barnett made no statement for publication and would not talk to the officers.

He is reported by officers to have told prisoners in the county jail that he was "in bad," but that if he could have gotten to the phone just before the officers nabbed him he would have been all right.

Barnett was a small man about 35 years, old it was said.

BAND TO MEET.

The Albany-Decatur Band rehearsal will be held tonight at the rooms of the Albany-Decatur Chamber of Commerce with H. B. Marston director.

PASTOR PREACHES CLOSING SERMON

Dr. W. P. Reeves, the pastor, preached the two closing sermons of the Central Baptist revival which closed last night. Reports from the meeting of last evening show that "four were candidates for baptism and joined the church making a total of fifty, including a few who had letters from other Baptist churches."

The Sunday morning sermon of Dr. Reeves was based on the power of "Unknown Influences," and the preacher created a deep impression on his hearers. It was shown that good and bad seeds of thought and action bring a sure harvest; bad products, bad and good produces good.

Last night Dr. Reeves spoke on the "Four Horsemen" told about in Revelation. He stated that we are shown that we must meet Christ, war, judgment and death.

Asked the speaker: "If thou hast run with the footmen and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses?"

The speaker meant by "footmen" our daily cares and lighter afflictions and our minor disappointments.

He said if little things worry and unfit, how can the really great questions of life be met successfully.

The speaker taught that it required divine aid to win against the "horses," the great and powerful influences of life. The horses and their riders, described in Revelations, were referred to with powerful effect by the speaker.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF ATTACK RECEIVED

American Minister In Peking Gives Details
Of The Incident

PRISONERS NOT HARMED, REPORT

One Thousand Bandits
Reported To Have Participated In Raid

(Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—A situation apparently regarded as seriously menacing good relations between the United States and the Peking government in China was described today by American Minister Schurman in the first official report to reach the state department regarding the capture of American citizens by bandits near the Shantung border.

The American minister is understood to have already made official representations on his own personal duty and it is expected that he will continue to make such representations as the situation of the prisoners requires.

This report was prepared by Schurman on the basis of information furnished him by an American who was on the train when the bandits attacked. It is stated that many Americans were injured, and indicated that so far as known none of these taking prisoners were harmed and the minister, apparently, was hopeful that they would all be released.

Minister Schurman's report described the situation as very serious. Should any American lose his life the state department is prepared to make vigorous demand on the Peking government to see that justice is done.

Not only will justice be required but indemnity must be paid and those responsible must be punished if good relations between the two countries are to continue.

In any case the United States will insist that more effective steps be taken in future to protect Americans who are in China on legitimate errands. The incident is regarded as more serious in view of the fact that it comes during negotiations for settlement of the controversy over an attack on another American, Charles Colman, who was killed last fall by Chinese soldiers.

For this the Chinese government already has made apologies and has indicated its willingness to pay indemnity, but it is regarded as likely that the negotiations will be halted until the Chinese authorities have shown a willingness to make adequate amends for the Shantung bandit raid.

PEKING, May 7.—Reports trickling in here from the Shantung border at Lincheng that 1,000 bandits seized the Shantung-Peking express train and took captive 150 of its passengers indicate that one foreigner, a British subject named Rochman, was killed and that a number of Americans probably all men, still stood in peril at the mercy of the brigands this afternoon.

Troops were believed to be pursuing the bandit army.

Among the Americans reported held was Robert Scripps.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

THE GREATEST CONSUMER OF RAW COTTON.

It is estimated by some writers that the boll weevil consumes annually from 6 to 8 million bales of cotton, or at least that the pests eat enough of the tiny cotton squares to prevent that many million bales of cotton coming to full maturity.

During the past year it is estimated that the state of Georgia produced only 763,000 bales of cotton compared to 2,700,000 in 1914; South Carolina 518,000 bales compared to 1,652,000 in 1920, only two years ago.

It is not contended that the weevil wrought all this change, but certainly it is safe to say he is at present the greatest consumer of raw cotton in the world. In a word the weevil bids fair to "damn the stream at its source" as regards cotton production unless he is headed off in some way. From the outer boundaries of the cotton belt to its center geographically speaking, and from the farmers themselves, to merchants, bankers and scientists, humbly speaking, there will be great activities put forth to "damn" the weevil ere he wrecks ruin upon the southern cotton industry.

With poison in the shape of calcium arsenate is expected to be used about the middle of the summer, but it is said that not a sufficient supply of arsenic can be found to meet the demands. Intensive cultivation will doubtless be the chief weapon used against the boll weevil this year.

Many have used early maturing varieties of cotton seed and this is well on the general principle of "first come first served."

Enterprising farmers began very early in the spring and even during last fall to fight off the boll weevil. Such cleared the cotton stalks off their lands and burned them soon after the cotton was picked out and in that way many of the weevils who hoped to sleep through the winter were burned with fire.

Many cleared the weeds and dead grasses away from the edges of the cotton fields in an effort to destroy still more of the pests. It is said that so heavy are the infestations of the weevil in and around the cotton fields that it is difficult to believe how many thousands of this enemy encamp round about.

A Dr. Coad of Tallulah, La., once filled a pint bottle within an hour, reports state, with weevils gathered from the weeds and mosses close beside one of his cotton fields.

Less than 16 years ago, a great deal of fun was made of those prophets who said that the steady march of the boll weevil once had crossed the Rio Grande, would be a great menace to the cotton crop of the South, and it is said a prominent New York Daily some 15 years ago carried a cartoon picture of the weevil which made him out to be a cross between a terrible lizard and a hummingbird, with a forked devil tail, with the trunk of a caterpillar and with the head of a honey bee. While the cartoonist meant to greatly exaggerate history has shown as a destroyer was never realized by the ancient cartoonist.

THE CANONS OF JOURNALISM

AS ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL

SOCIETY OF NEWSPAPER EDITORS.

The ideals of true journalism as recently set forth by the American Society of Newspaper Editors (composed of the editors, managing editors and chief editorial writers on the principal daily papers of the large cities of the country), and formally embodied in what is termed the "canons of journalism," if read diligently will prove enlightening, not only to members of the fourth estate, but to the general public as well. As a matter of fact the public generally seems to have little conception of the responsibility of newspapers. This is clearly in evidence when some citizens want a fight made. Such seem to think that a newspaper is a kind of bloody arena, so to speak, where every kind of an expression of hospitality can be made with impunity and should be made, or else the paper asked to make the fight is either "too proud to fight" or afraid to fight. Such well meaning citizens are the ones who generally write the paper under an assumed name or sign no name to their communications and that the wrath of heaven be called down on certain men or measures all unmindful that they are the management of papers to do something they have refused to do. The "canon" adopted by the national editors covers such a situation in the following manner:

A newspaper should not publish unofficial charges affecting reputation or moral character, without opportunity given to the accused to be heard; right practice demands the giving of such opportunity in all cases of serious accusations outside judicial proceedings.

rights or feelings without sure warrant of public right as distinguished from public curiosity.

The distinction the "canon" makes between "public" and "public curiosity" is an important one, in view of the fact that many seem more curious to see a fight than concerned about the issues in the open, would seem to be a fair conclusion from certain parts of the "canon." The confession of faith of the editors according to press reports is as follows:

"The primary function of newspapers is to communicate to the human race what its members do, feel and think. Journalism, therefore, demands of its practitioners the widest range of intelligence, of knowledge, and of experience, as well as natural and trained powers of observation and reasoning. To its opportunities as a chronicler indissolubly linked its obligations as teacher and interpreter.

The fact that the obligation of "teacher and interpreter," accepted in the confession of faith by the editors is important, and those who look to the press for more than just a record of the world's happenings will appreciate such inclusion. The National Newspaper Society evidently does not subscribe to the doctrine, quite popular a few years ago, that the editorial department of a newspaper should be done away with. In speaking of the much discussed question of the "freedom of the press" the "canon" adopted by the national editors says:

"Freedom of the press is to be guarded as a vital right of mankind. It is the unquestionable right to discuss whether what is not explicitly forbidden by law, including the wisdom of any restrictive statute.

Freedom from all obligations except that of fidelity to the public interests is vital.

"Promotion of any private interest contrary to the general welfare for whatever reason, is not compatible with honest journalism. So-called news communications from various sources should not be published without public notice of their source or else substantiation of their claims to value as news both in form and substance.

"Partisanship in editorial comment which knowingly departs from the truth does violence to the best spirit of American journalism; in the news columns it is subversive of a fundamental principle of the profession.

"Good faith with the reader is the foundation of all journalism worthy of the name."

Not as musical but quite as important as the cooing of the dove is the sound of the builder's hammer.

No American boy would give up his knot hole at the baseball park fence to look at the marriage of the Royal pair.

Esteem has to be very high for them to make possible overlooking of the faults of others.

Bailiff Tells Public Facts About His Case

Declares Flu Left Him in Wretched Condition But Tanlac Restored Him Fully—Gained 8 lbs. And Feels Fine, Declares Albany Man.

So many people everywhere have testified to having used Tanlac with such splendid results following influenza, grippe, operations, typhoid and pneumonia, dyspepsia and other troubles that leave the body in a run-down, weakened condition, that it has become recognized as the most powerful reconstructive tonic of the present day.

Upward of 75,000 well-known men and women have publicly expressed their indebtedness to Tanlac and the evidence of its remarkable powers is being strengthened daily by scores of statements like the following from Wilmer C. Wilder, bailiff and assistant tax collector of Dougherty County, living on Route A, Box 25, Albany.

Mr. Wilder said:

"An attack of the flu left me in an awful run-down condition and as I had heard of the merits of Tanlac through friends, I concluded to try the medicine. At this time I felt tired and nervous and had lost weight."

"Tanlac soon started me back to health and after taking two bottles I was feeling better than I had in five years and had gained eight pounds. Tanlac is certainly wonderful for building up the system. It has proved it in my case as well as with some of my friends and relatives. I am going to take the tonic again this Spring in order to avoid any weakening of my present good health."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37,000,000 bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—adv.

New York Letter

NEW YORK, May 7.—One doesn't think of a police station as the most conducive spot to matrimony. And yet a fact developed at the annual auction of stolen and unclaimed property held at Police Headquarters here which demonstrates that the young God Hymen gets about very lively. "The way to get in good with a lady," declared one of the bidders, is to give her something that's got a history. For instance, tonight I'm going to give my gal this watch and explain to her it's one that an old friend of mine is spending 15 years in Sing Sing for lifting from a lady in the subway. That ought to make a hit."

The most conservative paper in town is conducting a classified ad department which is run in the news columns and does not command a line rate. It is done in the manner of the lost and found column and is headed "Missing Persons" and "Located." The last issue I saw had seven missing and thirteen located, which seems hopeful.

Let no one scorn our city as a place of frivolity and uselessness. Miss Mary Meeker of Brooklyn, who just captured a prize for having the most beautiful hands of any woman in Greater New York explains that it was washing dishes for her mother that did it.

I seem to have a figure complex lately. But it came up again with Broadway rubbing its eyes over the several reports of musicians now closing their tours with record-breaking receipts. Ignace Paderewski has earned since November a total of $460,000, or an average of $7,000 for 66 piano recitals in America. This is nearly double what he earned in the early nineties in the prime of a sensational career. Let it be noted that he is 38 years older now than when he began. Mme. Farrar pocketed $125,000, and Jertina's salary was $60,000. Several of us would be willing to take a flyer in politics after the manner of Paderewski if we could stage a comeback like that.

My friend Earnest Aimless cannot keep out of trouble. He may now claim title for being king duncie. He recently taught a half wit how to talk intelligently and since then he has been besieged with orders for his services until he is almost frantic with the work of refusing the offers.

For many generations we have been sending missionaries to improve the Orientals. The worm has turned. Mme. Slaye Yamamoto, an expert in fashion and dress in Japan, will arrive in New York soon to tour the country with a view to introducing the correct wearing of kimono and other Japanese clothes.

Bathing by wireless is the latest. At the Edison show is the invention of two doctors that will heal many ills. Electro magnetic waves are applied along with light and heat and seem to boil impurities out of the person affected.

Composition of Bones.

The bones of the body are composed of animal matter and mineral matter, which is lime. The animal matter consists chiefly of fibers which give the bone its toughness and keep it from breaking. The mineral matter stiffens the bone and makes it able to support the weight of the body.

"I Was Afraid To Use Pain Removers On Account Of My Heart"

A FORMER NEURITIS SUFFERER WRITES, PRAISING KOZOL

"Five years ago I had my first neuritis pain. I am now 55 and if I had not recently come upon Kozol I would not have much courage to go on.

"I tried electric treatments but the pain responded too slowly to them. When it came, it was so terrifically acute that I needed instant and complete relief. I was afraid to use pain removers on account of my heart. It had been weak since childhood. I could not take such remedies as aspirin and phenacetin.

"One day our family doctor advised me to try Kozol. I found that I could stop the pain without in the least affecting my heart. My wife always keeps a box of her own on hand. She finds it invaluable for the nervous headaches and neuralgia with which she is troubled."

Letters of high praise and warm appreciation of Kozol, the remarkable new discovery for the relief of pain, colds and fevers, are received constantly at the Kozol Laboratories.—adv.

BETTY COMPSON AT PRINCESS.

Betty Compson who will appear at the Princess in "For Those We Love" has had a truly meteoric career. Her talents rose above adversity and found its own level. She used to play in vaudeville. Al Christie saw her and she made good in his film for her, then George Loane Tucker wanted her for "The Miracle Man." She made such a profound impression on the public she began her own organization and now makes her own pictures.

DOROTHY DALTON IS A FINE FIGURE ON HORSEBACK

The Princess today shows "Dark Secrets" with Dorothy Dalton on horseback. She has ridden down mountain slopes in western pictures, she has plunged through streams on horseback, loped along country roads and dashed along with the cowboys in pursuit of bandits but in her present picture she is called upon to do horse show riding and hurdle jumping.

The horse Betty rides is an Arabian steed named "Untamable" and has a disposition that justifies the name. Robert Ellis is her leading man.

NEWS OF CAPITAL

COLLEGE STARS.

Over the south many sport scribes have their eyes focused on college diamonds they have picked for future professional service.

Probably outstanding among these are such men as Dennicke, Georgia Tech second baseman; Morgan, Tech outfielder; Gillis, University of Alabama shortstop; Rosefield, Alabama first baseman; Griffin, Birmingham Southern College catcher; Gibson, Auburn catcher; Sales, University of Georgia pitcher; Godbe, Birmingham-Southern College catcher; Stevens, Howard College pitcher; Sheridan, Auburn pitcher; Shirling, Auburn outfielder; Allison, Georgia Tech pitcher; Embry, Vanderbilt pitcher; Hightower, Vanderbilt catcher; Watson, University of Georgia, third baseman and many others sport writers of this section have failed to see.

Emulation.

Great men, taken up in any way, are profitable company. We cannot look, however imperfectly, upon a great man, without gaining something by him. No nobler feeling than this of admiration for one higher than himself dwells in the breast of man. —Carlyle.
